

I believe that it is imperative that the FCC not weaken the State of Wisconsin's No Call Law. I do not believe that asking banks to comply with individual state laws hampers their ability to conduct business. I think that a multi-billion dollar industry that says that having to comply with multiple laws in various states is too burdensome is not thinking about its customers, but its bottom line.